

Images of Starlight

National Botanic Gardens

Thurs 18th February from 2pm-4pm

An exhibition of over 60 beautiful Astronomical Images captured by amateur astronomers from all over Ireland.

Join us in the National Botanic Gardens, Glasnevin Dublin 9 for a guided tour of the exhibition with astro expert John Flannery.

Organised with the Irish Astronomical Society and the Irish Federation of Astronomical Societies.

If interested please complete the form at <http://goo.gl/forms/ZSzObnkifl>

Please DO NOT contact the venue

The Central Milky Way seen from Mangrove Mountain, New South Wales. The image shows the centre of our galaxy which is rich in bright nebulosity as well as dark obscuring clouds of dust and gas which show up as dark lanes in a sea of stars. Photograph: John O'Mahony