

Queen's University Belfast and the Institute of Physics are pleased to invite you to a day dedicated to celebrate women in physics. The event will be held on March 19th 2014 at the Whitla Hall (QUB).

In this one-day event young women interested in physics from A-level students to those starting a career in physics, will have the opportunity to get together and share their experiences and points of view with other women, including those working in both industry and academia.

The event will consist of:

✓ Invited Talks:

- Prof. Jocelyn Bell Burnell (University of Oxford)
- Dr. Rachel Edwards (University of Warwick)
- Dr. Debra McNeill (Seagate)
- Morven Duffy (Intel)

✓ Contributed Talks

✓ Poster Session with prizes

✓ Science Fair (sponsored by Seagate):

- Hands-on experiments
- Demonstrations

✓ No registration fee

Poster Session

Two different types of posters are invited:

- 1) Group posters from A-level and undergraduate students about an established topic in physics (max. 6 persons).
  - 2) Individual poster from postgraduate students on their own research
- Poster prizes will be awarded to the best poster in each category.

Contributed talks

Postgraduate students are invited to participate in the event by giving contributed talks (15 min) about their own research on a popular science level.

For more information on posters and contributed talks (abstract submission), please email: m.arredondo@qub.ac.uk
